DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Newly submitted claim 2 directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: they are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus can be used for another materially different process, such as cutting wood molding.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claim 2 is withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

3. Claim 1 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Seigetich et al as set forth in the Office actions mailed October 22, 2001 and July 11, 2002.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed July 24, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. It is noted that applicant has based his argument on several court cases, and has provided the examiner with copies of some of the decisions. Applicant states that In re Casey and In re Otto were reversed on the point for which they were cited in the 1998 decision Ex parte Hervy A. Morris. The examiner strongly disagrees with applicant's contention that In re Casey and In re Otto were reversed by this decision. Rather, it is the examiner's position that these decisions were supported by Ex parte Hervy A Morris. In re Casey and In re Otto both hold that the recitation of the intended use of the claimed invention must result in a structural difference between the claimed invention and the prior art in order to patentably distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art. If the prior art is capable of performing the intended use, then it meets the claim. The Board reversed the examiner's rejection in Ex parte Hervy A. Morris because they determined that the prior art could not perform the intended use. "...in our view the disk 620 of Driver is not capable of performing the intended use recited...". It remains the examiner's position that as Sigetich et al anticipates each and every claimed structure of applicant's invention it fully capable of being used as applicant intends. There is no structural difference between the saw of Sigetich et al and applicant's claimed apparatus.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not

In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
